DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1, 3/1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by either Julinek et al. or Stancil et al. Note, the for use phrase in the preamble is not afforded a patentable limitation. Examiner's note: column 4, lines 7-9 in Julinek et al. and column 3, lines 53-60 in Stancil et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3/1, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the European patent ('736) in view of either Julinek et al. or Stancil et al. The European patent discloses the claimed invention except for the embedded antenna. Julinek et al. or Stancil et al. teaches that it is known to provide a vent with an antenna that is imbedded as set forth at column 4, lines 7-9 in Julinek et al. or column 3, lines 53-60 in Stancil et al. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to embed the antenna of the European patent, as taught by Julinek et al. or Stancil et al. in order to reduce manufacturing cost.

Election/Restrictions

5. Claim 3/2 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on March 7, 2005.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
